BIG COAL TRACT MAY BE OPENED UP BY UNITED STATES STEEL CORPORATION

Important Development in Nearby Townships Indicated By Presence of Surveyors

TWO OPENINGS PLANNED

One Likely to be the Old Redbird Mine and Another Will be Opened Running North

With engineers on the ground making surveys of a large tract of land in Fallowfield and adjoining townships, the biggest development of coal land in years for both coking and shipping purposes is indicated in Fallowfield and adjacent townships. The developments which will center around Speers and Dunlevy will be by the United States Steel corporation, it is stated, with which H. C. Frick company, extensive coal and coke operators in Western Pennsylvania is affilioted In the tract to be developed there are 3,200 acres lying south and southwest of Charleroi and bounding the Vesta Coal company's holdings. It is stated the holdings much of which was recently acquired will extend back to Pigeon Creek. It underlies either the whole or parts of about 12 farms.

The engineers are surveying the crop line. Most of the coal is that formerly held by the River Coal Combine and purchased years ago by them. The deal for the United States Steel corporation was put through by the Frick company only recently.

Two openings are to be made it is stated, and it is probable that for one the prsesent Redbird mine at Dunlevy will answer. This mine has been closed down for some time. The other opening, it is stated will be at Beechwood Park. The Redbird opening, will be south and the other opening will be north.

While facilities will be provided for ether rail or river shipments it is said considerable of the coal will be used for coking purposes. It is the intention to build coke ovens in the vicinity of Dunlevy and coke much of the coal. Now most of the Frick mines are in the vicinity of Uniontown, but the coal of that section can only well be used for coking purposes. The coal opening on the Monongahela river in the fourth pool is mostly good for both coking and steam purposes.

YOUNG MAN BADLY INJURED BY FALL OF SLATE IN MINE

Paul Covolski, aged 31 years, a Slavish miner, was taken to the Memoria' hospital at Monongahela Monday with a broken back, sustained in a fall of slate in the Henderson Coal company's mine at East Charleroi It is not thought that Covolski can recover.

Roscoe Board Is Deadlocked

Election of Teachers at Up-River Community Seems to be Difficult Job

Although two teachers were elected at a meeting of Roscoe school board last week the board is still deadlocked on naming instructors for two other rooms. At a meeting held some time ago the directors locked horns on naming the instructors and only a part of the positions were filled. Last week Miss Margaret Fallow was named for room No 6 and Miss Christine Riley for room No 7. Rooms four and five are still vacant as the directors cannot agree on teachers for these positions. A large number of applications are on file.

State Highway Commissioner Taking Trip Over Roads

CHARLEROI INTERESTED

Commissioner E. M. Bigelow of the State Department of Highways, was at Washington yesterday on a tour of investigation over the old National Pike. The commisioner contemplates making improvements on the pike as authorized by a special State appropriation of $300,000 by the Legislature for resurfacing the road within the State. This, Commissioner Bigelow intends to do this season, and as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made it is expected a large force will be put to work on the improvement.

It is not known yet whether any of the routes leading into Charleroi will be designated for improvement this season, but strong hopes are entertained because of its industrial importance that the river districts will come in for early consideration. The river boulevard would be one of the most important thoroughfares in the State both for business and pleasure, and this constitutes a logical argument why it should be among the first chosen for improvement

PREDICTION TRUE; CHAS. HICKMAN DOES NOT DIE ON GALLOWS

Beaver County Murderer Collapses in Night and Expires Two Hours Before Time Set For Execution

Charles Hickman's prediction that he would never die on the gallows in expiation for the crime of murdering his wife in Beaver county, came true this morning. Hickman was to have answered on the gallows for his crime at 10 o'clock. At 8 o'clock, two hours before the time set for the execution, the grim reaper had claimed a victory.

Hickman killed his wife in Beaver in 1910. Twice he escaped from prison, and both times was recaught. The last time when being imprisoned he made the statement that he would never be hung. Sunday he tried to inhale gas and kill himself, but was caught in the attempt.

At about midnight he collapsed in his cell, although in the evening his mental and physical condition had been pronounced improved. He became unconscious and three physicians worked over him for three hours Symptoms of cholera morbus were shown. He seemed better after 3 o'clock and at 6 again became violently ill, dying at 8 o'clock. Physicians attributed his death to natural causes, but a post mortem examination was to be held to ascertain whether or not his death was due to an attempt at suicide.

MINE STRIKE CAUSED BY FACTIONAL CONTENTION

Few Bruised Heads Result from Trouble at Arnold Mines--Objections Registered to Checkweighman

An incipient strike, caused it is said by a factional disagreement among the men at Arnold City mine No 2 above Fayette City, resulted in a clash this morning, in which the doctor had to mend some broken heads and bruised anatomies. It is not known yet what the outcome will be or when the men will return to work, although the latter have signified their willingness to return contingent upon the company's acceptance

The trouble started over a dispute as to the eligibility of the checkweighman. Frank McKenna, who is said to have represented the miority faction, was serving, and was sustained by the superintendent of the mine. The other faction quit work Friday evening, and the superintendent made an attempt to start the mine with what men remained in and some outsiders who applied for work. The other side met some o f the outsiders as they were either going from or coming to work this morning and a fight ensued, in which some of the outsiders are said to have been beaten up

A meeting of the miners was held this forenoon and another vote was taken on a checkweighman. Benjamin Usher was chosen by a substantial majority and the miners signified their willingness to return to work with Usher as checkweighman.

AGENTS TAKE TRIP OVER THE DIVISION

Party Takes Dinner in Charleroi and Inspects Work Being Done on the New Charleroi Station

Headed by Superintendent A G. Mitchell of the Monongahela Division Pennsylvania Railroad, 48 railroad men comprising agents and office men from the division made a trip over the division today, stopping in Charleroi for dinner and to inspect the new Charleroi station, which is in process of construction. The party left Pittsburg this morning, and will return tonight after inspecting the road.

The trip is an annual one taken by the agents and others of the party with a view of acquainting themselves with the lines. Supt Mitchell usually accompanies the party

REPRESENTATIVE GIVES CASE FROM HIS SIDE

Stating that it places them in a wrong light a representative of the Lowstutter heirs wishes to contradict an article published in Monday's issue of the Mail. This article was concerning negotiations supposed to be started by the Charleroi Coal company to secure a certain piece of ground from the Lowstutter heirs, claimed to be needed for improvments about to be made by the company.

The representative of the Lowstutter heirs states that the Charleroi Coal Coal company made known the fact that they would like to purchase a tract at the southern corner of their plan of lots in North Charleroi borough. A price was placed upon the property desired by the coal company, it being the same that would have been placed on lots to any other company or individuals. This price appeared to be more than the coal company wanted to pay, and thus negotiations were held up, according to the statement of the heirs

It places the Lowstutter heirs under a misapprehension, their representative states, because from the article published Monday, it seems they are holding back public progress. This is denied. No favoritism will be shown in the sale of the ground to anyone it is stated.

Council Meeting.

Council will hold a meeting tonight providing there is a quorum present and it is likely that among the most important business to come up will be that of the fire limits. A number of citizens may be present.

W. C. Clark of the firm of Kirk and Clark left this morning with his family for Chautauqua, N. Y., where they will spend two weeks.

Coal Demand in Northwest

Mines Receiving Big Orders - Large Share Goes to Marianna

It is stated that a business boom in the northwest has resulted in a heavy demand for coal and coke, which has increased the coal production of this section. At Marianna heavy orders have been received lately, and every coke oven at that place has been lighted and 800 men are now at work at that plant. It is stated that 200 more men will be given work immediately and the tonnage, which last week was increased 40 per cent, will be greatly augmented.

BRIDGE MAY BE STARTED

Bids Asked for Construction of Work on Substructure

LINE WILL CROSS RIVER

It is very probable that work on the extension of the Monongahela railroad will s tart by the first of August as bids have been asked for the construction of the substructure of the bridge which will be erected near New Geneva. Although there have been many erroneous reports concerning this work, there has been no actual construction of any character and if the work at the bridge crossing is started, it will be the beginning of the work of the extension of the above railroad.

Although the Buckhannon and Northern has been busily engaged in their improvements south of the state line for the past two months, according to reports it is not making the desired progress as it was expected to finish construction by fall.

The Monongahela company will rush the work to completion and it is possible that the grading as well as the construction of smaller arches and retaining walls will be started in the near future.

The controlling interests are owned by the New York Central lines and it has long been the desire of that system to open up the Greene county coal.—Uniontown Morning Herald.

Notice.

The School Directors of Fallowfield Township, Washington Co., Pa., will meet Saturday, July 22, 1911, at Bank of Charleroi, Charleroi, Pa., at one o'clock to receive bids and let contracts for furnishing coal for nine school houses. Also sealed bids for cleaning nine school houses and closets. The board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Present Developments in Monongahela Valley Lend Authenticity to Rumor of Activity

TO REACH COAL FIELDS

Jones and Laughlin Said to be Backing Movement--Bridge Will be Constructed if Plans Materialize

That the Baltimore and Ohio railroad will build into Greene county by way of the proposed route of 27 years ago, is a report that comes from Connellsville. Considering the other developments that are being made by railroads along the Monongahela valley, and the fact that the Greene county coal fields, acknowledged to be among the richest in Western Pennsylvania, will be opened before so very long, much credence is given to the report.

The route of the proposed line 27 years ago was between Connellsville, Fayette county and Zediker, Washington county, whre a connection would be made with the Wheeling division for western shipment. By the new plan the line if built will be for eastern shipment. The old B. and O. survey from Zeidker to Coal Centre will be used. At Coal Centre the river will be bridged. Then instead of building a line to Connellsville which is 18 miles from that point the B. and O. will connect at Newell with the P. & L. E. and use the new short line that company is building from Fayette City to the Youghiogheny river. Thus the B. and O. will be given the same advantage as over a line of their own.

In return for the privilege of operating over the P. & L. E. short line, rumor says that the Baltimore and Ohio will grant the former company the use of their line to Wheeling. This arrangement would give both roads the advantage of a short haul and a low grade both east and west from Greene and Wasrington county coal fields.

Near Coal Centre are the Lilly and Jutte coal tracts in which there are 3,600 acres of an eight-foot vein of the best coal in Washington county. The holders of this coal are anxious to get a railroad through their fields of coal, with the advantages of eastern shipment.

Behinl the movement, it is understood is the Jones and Laughlin company, which operates the Vesta No 4 mine, on account of the advantage that it would give their Aliquippa plant. Practically all their shipments now is by river, and during high river or when the river is tied up with ice they are greatly handicapped in their water shipments. With the proposed road built the P. & L. E. could haul their coal to Aliquippa when the river is unnavigable.

AGAIN MISTAKEN.

Once again the Washington Observer seeks to confuse the public mind in regard to the Mail's atitude on road improvement in Washington county. The Observer would have the public believe that the Mail is opposed to the county spending any money at all on road improvements but hould leave such improvement for the state to make exclusively, now that the Commonwealth is committed to a comprehensive plan of road improvements.

Here is where the Observer is again in error, and its attitude is only taken to cover its own retreat as gracefully as possible from an untenable position on the road question which it assumed some years ago as a political issue. The Mail is heartily in favor of the county and the townships co-operating and spending all the money they possibly can in the improvement of roads, but it is not in favor of using the plan to promote political and personal interests by the construction of one and two-mile sections here and there over the county. The Mail also believes that more miles of road can be constructed in the same length of time and at a less cost to the taxpayers of the county by co-operating under the State plan than by the county and townships proceeding alone.

The Observer still further seeks to confuse the public mind by professing to believe that the county and townships cannot proceed under the State law to improve roads after the meagre State aid alloted to each county is exhausted. The Observer knows or should know, that there is nothing in the State law to prohibit the counties and townships from proceeding under the plans adopted by the State, and paying the entire cost themselves, any more than municipal laws would prevent the owners of a lot plan from sewering and paving their holdings in accordance with the city plans. The advantages of the State plan are obvious, in that all such roads would be uniform and constructed in accordance with the specifications of the State engineers, besides ultimately coming in for State aid in maintenance. This is the attitude of the Mail on the road question, and it firmly believes time will demonstrate its wisdom and correctness. It is altogether probable that the State Highway department never would have stood for the patchwork plan executed by the county, whereby thirty-eight miles of road were constructed in sections of six-tenths of a mile to three and seven-tenths of a mile in twenty different sections of the county. When the State builds a road it wants it to go somewhere and to serve the whole public instead of a few people for political purposes.

The Mail is pleased to note that the Observer is getting around to the State plan of highway improvements, and while it professes some vague alarm about the so-called Penrose gang being in charge of road building in the State, it specifically and heartily endorses Commissioner Bigelow and the work he has been chosen to execute.

MOVEMENT IN THE AIR.

Rumors from various quarters are to the effect that many railroad projects are being considered for the development of the upper Monongahela valley. Some of the alleged projected railway extensions associate possible developments of tracts not yet touched in the fourth and fifth pools while others contemplate tapping the rich fields of Greene county. Others still open up connections with the resources of West Virginia and make railway connecions east and west which if consumated would make the Monongahela valley a most important traffic thoroughfare.

Out of all these rumors it is reasonable to believe that there is some semblance of truth to some of the projected developments. The rich resources are here, and the only question that figures is when the interests affected will consider it an opportune time for commencing the work that is bound to come. The Monongahela valley is destined to figure as a traffic way from the Pittsburg district to the Gulf when the Panama canal is completed, and the rumors now afloat are more than likely a premonition of what is to come later

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"The mind of the crook works faster and more comprehensively than that of the shrewdest business man," was the remark of a prominent postal official who visited the valley recently who was looking up some alleged abuses of the mailing facilities of the community. "No sooner does the Postoffice Department run down a fraudulant scheme in one part of the country that is using the mails to defraud people, than another develops somewhere else, which, by the time it is investigated and shown to be fraudulant, has separated a portion of the public from a big lot of its money. If the same amount of time, energy and ability were devoted to the promotion and development of legitimate business enterprises, a big gain would be made in the world's progress. It is really surprising the amount of genius and executive ability that is displayed in originating schemes to get something for nothing. It seems to me sometimes that more able men these days turn their talents to developing crooked schemes than they do to legitimate business enterprises."

"In their anxiety to win the owners and managers of baseball clubs this season are not only cheapening the game but are alienating the public by the introduction of rowdy and blackguard tactics," said an old-time fan today, who keeps tab on the big professional leagues. "There was never so much umpire baiting in recent years as is now indulged in by the players of the National League, and this has spread to the smaller leagues and independent teams until a spectator can scarcely see a game without a disgraceful exhibition of rowdyism not only on the field but among the spectators themselves. This is due to the owners of the clubs in the big league not supporting the staff of umpires. In the National League the owners are so anxious to win that they encourage their players in trying to intimidate and browbeat the umpires, until baseball is getting into disrepute from the spectator's point of view. It will be observed that the American League is playing clean baseball, and that their club as well as individual percentages are considerably ahead of those of the National League."

CURIOUS TRAITS OF ANIMALS

Peculiar Habits of Flies, Hens, Mice, Snakes and Goldfish, Some of Them Unexplainable.

A fly on a window pane will crawl to the top, fly back to the bottom and crawl up again. This order is seldom reversed. Why, no one knows, it is on record that a fly crawled up a window pane thirty-two times, returning each time a-wing.

Hens scratch for food with the sun behind them, the reason being that the rays reflect on the minute particles. A blind hen will pick grain and not miss a kernel.

Cats seldom lie with their feet to the fire. Usually they lie on the left side. Dogs lie with their fore paws to the fire

A mouse will ignore a food supply sufficient for a meal and run great risks to nibble at a wholesale supply, says the Milwaukee Sentinel. It will hide at the source of food supply and not depart therefrom until actually disturbed. It isn't true that a mouse runs to a hole at the first alarm.

Find a harmless little snake the length of a lead pencil and provide a box for it in the house, visit it daily, and at the end of three months it will crawl to you for food.

Goldfish usually swim around a globe to the right. They can be taught to take a fly out of the hand in six weeks' time. The presence of other fish in the globe is generally ignored by goldfish. Drop a piece of chip on the surface of the water and it will frighten a fish.

SAVED DAUGHTERS LIFE

This Father Refused to Let His Daughter Die.

Here is a story with amoral that many parents might take to heart:

"My daughter was very pale, nerous, thin and suffered with severe pain in her back, so that we took her out of school. Her flesh became blue and she could not retain her urine. I spent over $100 for medicines but she grew worse. Finally I bought a bottle of Thompson's Barosma and she began to grow better right away. Five bottles of Thompson's Barosma made a complete cure and today she is a perfectly healthy girl. Thompson's Barosma saved her life, for she was failing so fast that death was not far off."—Frank D. Meeder, Pleasantville Pa.

If you are troubled with backache, sideache, weakness with backache, or any liver or kidney trouble, then it's time for Thompson's Barosma.

Advertising Manager of the C. E. Zimmerman Co., Chicago.

An Advertisement is Your Cheapest Salesman

The chances are that if you go into almost any store in a country town, at the present time, and tell the storekeeper that his cheapest salesman is his advertisement in the local newspaper he will laugh at you. He will laugh because he does not know what salesmanship means. It is the mere showing of his goods to any customer that has the good luck to come into his store according to his lights. He does not realize that it is possible for customers to be enticed to his store to actually demand goods that they never thought they wanted before.

It is a comparatively easy matter to sell a woman or man goods when you have them in your store and can lay the wares right in front of them. In such a case much more than nine-tenths of the selling act has already been accomplished by the coming of your customer to the store. Even then a saleman who can get big results in the store is classed as high-grade and his salary no matter how large, is considered a reasonable expenditure and in many cases cheaply spent

To cause a customer to have a desire to come to your store, where no desire existed before, requires salesmanship of a high order. Such salesmanship makes new customers—builds your business and lays in short the foundation of your fortune. No retail business of modern times can make a great success without such salesmanship—without, in other words the proper utilization of space in your local newspaper. Considering the results this kind of salesmanship obtains, it is the best and cheapest you can buy.

This efficient use of space in your local newspaper has been called salesmanship on paper. If you fill the space with forceful matter that will create attention, cause conviction and bring results you have an addition to your sales force that may surely be called the best promoter on your staff. The results that are obtained from this salesmanship depend on the selling ability used. But no matter what results are obtained, the quality os [illegible] necessary is much greater than that required inside the store.

The big mail-order houses reckon that they must pay so much money for every inquiry they get. The amount of this sum is ascertained by dividing all the money spent on advertising and selling literature by the number of letters received in answer to the same. This refers to inquiries only. Not every inquirer becomes a customer. The securing of actual customers costs more. The money that has to be spent to get one new customer by those concerns would astonish the local retailer. It is usually not less than the amount spent on several weeks' advertising by the average local storekeeper The salesmanship on paper that is necessary to do all this is the finest that can be got for money and it is considered cheap at the enormous price paid for it because it is engaged in building up a big mail order business with new material.

The local retailer can apply a lesson from this to himself. If those mail order houses spend so much money to get one new customer, why should a retailer not make an effort in the same direction? Why should he not adopt the same means of attractive salesmanship on paper? If he can bring even one new customer a week to his store with an expenditure that is many times below what a mail order house has to pay for getting the same results, it is worth while paying closer attention to this successful method of selling. If he can influence more than one customer, and it would be poor local newspaper advertising indeed that could not do that, he would be accomplishing far more than the mail order houses with their highly paid selling experts. And, as a business man, he could congratulate himself on a good investment. He could say to himself that he had in his advertisement the cheapest salesman on his force.

It is, of course, not always possible to readily get this strong, convincing celling matter in your newspaper space. You may not be able yourself to write it and you may not have any local person to whom you can turn. But that need not deter you. There are now on the market one or two syndicated advertising services that are designed especially to suit cases like yours. These services are supplied in a series of fifty-two advertisements with accompanying copper-plate engraving one for each week inthe year, at prices ranging from one dollar per week up. Many of the advertisements have been classed by authorities as equal to the best that have made successes for the big city department stores and national advertisers. Reduced facsimiles of several of these advertisements will be seen at the top of this column.

The advertisements shown above have received many testimanials from experts. For instance, Wm. H. Ukers President of the Grocery and Allied Trades Press Association of America (a combination of the entire American Grocery Trade Press) and editor of the Tea and Coffee Trade Journal, New York, writes:

"I consider your advertisement the best I have seen in a long time"

The Retailer's Journal, Chicago, writes:

"We believe the samples of your advertisements sent us are the best we have ever seen."

After expressions like these from men who have spent long lives amongst the kind of advertising that has built fortunes for the shrewd users, the local merchant who neglects the opportunity now offered him to obtain some of these success making announcements is missing the chance of his lifetime

The editor of this paper will be glad to supply further particulars of the syndicate whose specimen ads adorn the top of this column and I advise early application as only one of these services will be supplied to each storekeeper in his own town

"SEA FRUIT" IS DELICIOUS

Many Little Shellfish of the Mediterranean of Which the French Make Good Use.

Fruits de mer ("sea fruit"), this is the comprehensive name by which the numerous little shellfish of the Mediterranean are known; the term, affectionate if you will, which the French use in speaking of these contributions of the sea which are at their best in Marseilles and all along the Riviera, over the border into sunny Italy.

Marseilles is the great fish market of southern France and Leghorn of northern Italy, while Naples of course is the center for southern Italy. Along the quays of all three cities an epicure on his rambles will find much of interest and many a new sensation for his palate.

Bouillabaisse, even before it was made famous in literature by Thackeray, was considered the piece de resistance of southern France and matelotte de poisson a close second. But for my part the most luscious morsels of the fruits of the blue Mediterranean are the little shellfish which are sold from the booths along the quays or in the open air kitchens where amid odors of garlic and oil, a whiff of the salt air from the sea and of great masses of wet seaweed upon which the shellfish are temptingly arranged make the nostrils dilate even as the sight of the seductive wares tickle the palate and force one to stop and investigate.—Epicure.

CHRISTIANS BEAT THE METHODISTS BY A BIG SCORE

Capt. Mathers and His Bunch Wear Batting Clothes-- Errors Numerous

Between hard hitting and Methodist errors the Christians were enabled to gain an easy victory Monday night and the score was 13 to 3. The Christians had on their hitting clothes and it would have taken a whole lot to have stopped them from banging the ball the way they did. Perce Pollock tacked mound duty for the Methodists but after three innings experience there decided he was needed in the outfield and Ray Kent was sent in.

The Christians scored in the first, second, third and fifth innings. In their first they got one on two singles, and an error and in the second captured five runs on four hits, and three errors. Three runs was the record for the third sessions on two hits and three misplays. The fifth session meant four more tallies on a single and a triple, a walk, a hit by pitcher, an error, wild pitch and sacrifice fly. That made 13 and the Christians discontinued running the bases.

In the fourth on a double by McKean and singles by Pollock and Gray, a passed ball and a stolen base two runs were scored by the Methodists. Gray singled in the sixth inning, stole second, went third on a passed ball coming home on an out.

BASEBALL BINGLES

Kiefer was touched for eight safeties by the Methodists. That was somewhat more than the Catholics could glean.

* * *

Cardon Jimeson, whom Dale Jolliffee calls the human interrogation mark and who seems to do his best to live up to his reputation, plays better on short than anywhere else.

* * *

Manager George Barnett in middle garden had the audicity to catch two pretty flies. Georgeis "some punkins" as a fielder, all right

* * *

By putting on a little extra steam Speedy McKean stretched what ordinarily would have been a single into a double

* * *

Heffran has his batting eye back again. He is stinging the ball to a very considerable extent now.

* * *

Frank Buchanan landed one down between first and second at Blairsville Saturday, but the scorekeeper forgot to credit the same. Mistakes do occur but on a beaut like—well Blairsville scorers could do no better.

* * *

Capt. Mathers had his men working the hit and run game to a finish Monday night.

* * *

Pollock landed a pretty Texas leaguer over short in the fourth.

* * *

Louie Bege and Gray pulled off a pretty steal in the fourth, the latter coming home on the deal.

* * *

Kent pitched the first time this year and twired rather well at that.

* * *

Members of the Christian team kidded Pollock and Kent for posing. Nobody ever accused them of that before, and it might be possible that the Christians were jealous. So there!

Small Republics.

Klein-Alp is a diminutive republic tucked away between Switzerland and France. Only in summer is the republic inhabited and then by miners and cowgirls There is one hotel, closed during the winter Another little republic is in Tyrol, between Austria and Italy, and in long gone years was under the jurisdiction of first a king and then an emperor But in the adjustment of frontier lines the state of Val di Ventino was in some way overlooked, and it promptly organized itself into a Lilliputian republic It has now about 2,000 inhabitants, living in six villages Neither Val di Ventino or Klein-Alp have any taxes. There are no officials or compulsory military service. The only industry of Val di Ventino, aside from the farming of small fields, is charcoal burning

Nearly Out of Cheese.

A grocery salesman entering a store found the place in charge of the delivery boy. Upon being asked where the proprietor was, the boy replied: "I am the whole cheese here." The traveling man departed, leaving a note for the proprietor, which the boy promptly opened. "Permit me to suggest," he read, "that you are nearly out of cheese."—Success.

I will leave tonight, July 17, for a six weeks' trip to Mt. Clemens, Mich., for treatment. I wish to notify all people who have business with my church that I will look after all transactions immediately upon my return on Sept. 1.

BIG COAL TRACT MAY BE OPENED UP BY UNITED STATES STEEL CORPORATION

Important Development in Nearby Townships Indicated By Presence of Surveyors

TWO OPENINGS PLANNED

One Likely to be the Old Redbird Mine and Another Will be Opened Running North

With engineers on the ground making surveys of a large tract of land in Fallowfield and adjoining townships, the biggest development of coal land in years for both coking and shipping purposes is indicated in Fallowfield and adjacent townships. The developments which will center around Speers and Dunlevy will be by the United States Steel corporation, it is stated, with which H. C. Frick company, extensive coal and coke operators in Western Pennsylvania is affiliated In the tract to be developed there are 3,200 acres lying south and southwest of Charleroi and bounding the Vesta Coal company's holdings. It is stated the holdings much of which was recently acquired will extend back to Pigeon Creek. It underlies either the whole or parts of about 12 farms.

The engineers are surveying the crop line. Most of the coal is that formerly held by the River Coal Combine and purchased years ago by them. The deal for the United States Steel corporation was put through by the Frick company only recently.

Two openings are to be made it is stated, and it is probable that for one the prsesent Redbird mine at Dunlevy will answer. This mine has been closed down for some time. The other opening, it is stated will be at Beechwood Park. The Redbird opening, will be south and the other opening will be north.

While facilities will be provided for ether rail or river shipments it is said considerable of the coal will be used for coking purposes. It is the intention to build coke ovens in the vicinity of Dunlevy and coke much of the coal. Now most of the Frick mines are in the vicinity of Uniontown, but the coal of that section can only well be used for coking purposes. The coal opening on the Monongahela river in the fourth pool is mostly good for both coking and steam purposes.

Roscoe Board Is Deadlocked

Election of Teachers at Up-River Community Seems to be Difficult Job

Although two teachers were elected at a meeting of Roscoe school board last week the board is still deadlocked on naming instructors for two other rooms. At a meeting held some time ago the directors locked horns on naming the instructors and only a part of the positions were filled. Last week Miss Margaret Fallow was named for room No 6 and Miss Christine Riley for room No 7. Rooms four and five are still vacant as the directors cannot agree on teachers for these positions. A large number of applications are on file.

BIGELOW AT COUNTY SEAT

State Highway Commissioner Taking Trip Over Roads

CHARLEROI INTERESTED

Commissioner E. M. Bigelow of the State Department of Highways, was at Washington yesterday on a tour of investigation over the old National Pike. The commisioner contemplates making improvements on the pike as authorized by a special State appropriation of $300,000 by the Legislature for resurfacing the road within the State. This, Commissioner Bigelow intends to do this season, and as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made it is expected a large force will be put to work on the improvement.

It is not known yet whether any of the routes leading into Charleroi will be designated for improvement this season, but strong hopes are entertained because of its industrial importance that the river districts will come in for early consideration. The river boulevard would be one of the most important thoroughfares in the State both for business and pleasure, and this constitutes a logical argument why it should be among the first chosen for improvement

Beaver County Murderer Collapses in Night and Expires Two Hours Before Time Set For Execution

Charles Hickman's prediction that he would never die on the gallows in expiation for the crime of murdering his wife in Beaver county, came true this morning. Hickman was to have answered on the gallows for his crime at 10 o'clock. At 8 o'clock, two hours before the time set for the execution, the grim reaper had claimed a victory.

Hickman killed his wife in Beaver in 1910. Twice he escaped from prison, and both times was recaught. The last time when being imprisoned he made the statement that he would never be hung. Sunday he tried to inhale gas and kill himself, but was caught in the attempt.

At about midnight he collapsed in his cell, although in the evening his mental and physical condition had been pronounced improved. He became unconscious and three physicians worked over him for three hours Symptoms of cholera morbus were shown. He seemed better after 3 o'clock and at 6 again became violently ill, dying at 8 o'clock. Physicians attributed his death to natural causes, but a post mortem examination was to be held to ascertain whether or not his death was due to an attempt at suicide.

MINE STRIKE CAUSED BY FACTIONAL CONTENTION

Few Bruised Heads Result from Trouble at Arnold Mines--Objections Registered to Checkweighman

An incipient strike, caused it is said by a factional disagreement among the men at Arnold City mine No 2 above Fayette City, resulted in a clash this morning, in which the doctor had to mend some broken heads and bruised anatomies. It is not known yet what the outcome will be or when the men will return to work, although the latter have signified their willingness to return contingent upon the company's acceptance

The trouble started over a dispute as to the eligibility of the checkweighman. Frank McKenna, who is said to have represented the miority faction, was serving, and was sustained by the superintendent of the mine. The other faction quit work Friday evening, and the superintendent made an attempt to start the mine with what men remained in and some outsiders who applied for work. The other side met some of the outsiders as they were either going from or coming to work this morning and a fight ensued, in which some of the outsiders are said to have been beaten up

A meeting of the miners was held this forenoon and another vote was taken on a checkweighman. Benjamin Usher was chosen by a substantial majority and the miners signified their willingness to return to work with Usher as checkweighman.

AGENTS TAKE TRIP OVER THE DIVISION

Party Takes Dinner in Charleroi and Inspects Work Being Done on the New Charleroi Station

Headed by Superintendent A G. Mitchell of the Monongahela Division Pennsylvania Railroad, 48 railroad men comprising agents and office men from the division made a trip over the division today, stopping in Charleroi for dinner and to inspect the new Charleroi station, which is in process of construction. The party left Pittsburg this morning, and will return tonight after inspecting the road.

The trip is an annual one taken by the agents and others of the party with a view of acquainting themselves with the lines. Supt Mitchell usually accompanies the party

REPRESENTATIVE GIVES CASE FROM HIS SIDE

Stating that it places them in a wrong light a representative of the Lowstutter heirs wishes to contradict an article published in Monday's issue of the Mail. This article was concerning negotiations supposed to be started by the Charleroi Coal company to secure a certain piece of ground from the Lowstutter heirs, claimed to be needed for improvments about to be made by the company.

The representative of the Lowstutter heirs states that the Charleroi Coal Coal company made known the fact that they would like to purchase a tract at the southern corner of their plan of lots in North Charleroi borough. A price was placed upon the property desired by the coal company, it being the same that would have been placed on lots to any other company or individuals. This price appeared to be more than the coal company wanted to pay, and thus negotiations were held up, according to the statement of the heirs

It places the Lowstutter heirs under a misapprehension, their representative states, because from the article published Monday, it seems they are holding back public progress. This is denied. No favoritism will be shown in the sale of the ground to anyone it is stated.

Council Meeting.

Council will hold a meeting tonight providing there is a quorum present and it is likely that among the most important business to come up will be that of the fire limits. A number of citizens may be present.

W. C. Clark of the firm of Kirk and Clark left this morning with his family for Chautauqua, N. Y., where they will spend two weeks.

Coal Demand in Northwest

Mines Receiving Big Orders - Large Share Goes to Marianna

It is stated that a business boom in the northwest has resulted in a heavy demand for coal and coke, which has increased the coal production of this section. At Marianna heavy orders have been received lately, and every coke oven at that place has been lighted and 800 men are now at work at that plant. It is stated that 200 more men will be given work immediately and the tonnage, which last week was increased 40 per cent, will be greatly augmented.

BRIDGE MAY BE STARTED

Bids Asked for Construction of Work on Substructure

LINE WILL CROSS RIVER

It is very probable that work on the extension of the Monongahela railroad will s tart by the first of August as bids have been asked for the construction of the substructure of the bridge which will be erected near New Geneva. Although there have been many erroneous reports concerning this work, there has been no actual construction of any character and if the work at the bridge crossing is started, it will be the beginning of the work of the extension of the above railroad.

Although the Buckhannon and Northern has been busily engaged in their improvements south of the state line for the past two months, according to reports it is not making the desired progress as it was expected to finish construction by fall.

The Monongahela company will rush the work to completion and it is possible that the grading as well as the construction of smaller arches and retaining walls will be started in the near future.

The controlling interests are owned by the New York Central lines and it has long been the desire of that system to open up the Greene county coal.—Uniontown Morning Herald.

Notice.

The School Directors of Fallowfield Township, Washington Co., Pa., will meet Saturday, July 22, 1911, at Bank of Charleroi, Charleroi, Pa., at one o'clock to receive bids and let contracts for furnishing coal for nine school houses. Also sealed bids for cleaning nine school houses and closets. The board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Present Developments in Monongahela Valley Lend Authenticity to Rumor of Activity

TO REACH COAL FIELDS

Jones and Laughlin Said to be Backing Movement--Bridge Will be Constructed if Plans Materialize

That the Baltimore and Ohio railroad will build into Greene county by way of the proposed route of 27 years ago, is a report that comes from Connellsville. Considering the other developments that are being made by railroads along the Monongahela valley, and the fact that the Greene county coal fields, acknowledged to be among the richest in Western Pennsylvania, will be opened before so very long, much credence is given to the report.

The route of the proposed line 27 years ago was between Connellsville, Fayette county and Zediker, Washington county, whre a connection would be made with the Wheeling division for western shipment. By the new plan the line if built will be for eastern shipment. The old B. and O. survey from Zeidker to Coal Centre will be used. At Coal Centre the river will be bridged. Then instead of building a line to Connellsville which is 18 miles from that point the B. and O. will connect at Newell with the P. & L. E. and use the new short line that company is building from Fayette City to the Youghiogheny river. Thus the B. and O. will be given the same advantage as over a line of their own.

In return for the privilege of operating over the P. & L. E. short line, rumor says that the Baltimore and Ohio will grant the former company the use of their line to Wheeling. This arrangement would give both roads the advantage of a short haul and a low grade both east and west from Greene and Wasrington county coal fields.

Near Coal Centre are the Lilly and Jutte coal tracts in which there are 3,600 acres of an eight-foot vein of the best coal in Washington county. The holders of this coal are anxious to get a railroad through their fields of coal, with the advantages of eastern shipment.

Behind the movement, it is understood is the Jones and Laughlin company, which operates the Vesta No 4 mine, on account of the advantage that it would give their Aliquippa plant. Practically all their shipments now is by river, and during high river or when the river is tied up with ice they are greatly handicapped in their water shipments. With the proposed road built the P. & L. E. could haul their coal to Aliquippa when the river is unnavigable.

AGAIN MISTAKEN.

Once again the Washington Observer seeks to confuse the public mind in regard to the Mail's atitude on road improvement in Washington county. The Observer would have the public believe that the Mail is opposed to the county spending any money at all on road improvements but should leave such improvement for the State to make exclusively, now that the Commonwealth is committed to a comprehensive plan of road improvements.

Here is where the Observer is again in error, and its attitude is only taken to cover its own retreat as gracefully as possible from an untenable position on the road question which it assumed some years ago as a political issue. The Mail is heartily in favor of the county and the townships co-operating and spending all the money they possibly can in the improvement of roads, but it is not in favor of using the plan to promote political and personal interests by the construction of one and two-mile sections here and there over the county. The Mail also believes that more miles of road can be constructed in the same length of time and at a less cost to the taxpayers of the county by co-operating under the State plan than by the county and townships proceeding alone.

The Observer still further seeks to confuse the public mind by professing to believe that the county and townships cannot proceed under the State law to improve roads after the meagre State aid alloted to each county is exhausted. The Observer knows or should know, that there is nothing in the State law to prohibit the counties and townships from proceeding under the plans adopted by the State, and paying the entire cost themselves, any more than municipal laws would prevent the owners of a lot plan from sewering and paving their holdings in accordance with the city plans. The advantages of the State plan are obvious, in that all such roads would be uniform and constructed in accordance with the specifications of the State engineers, besides ultimately coming in for State aid in maintenance. This is the attitude of the Mail on the road question, and it firmly believes time will demonstrate its wisdom and correctness. It is altogether probable that the State Highway department never would have stood for the patchwork plan executed by the county, whereby thirty-eight miles of road were constructed in sections of six-tenths of a mile to three and seven-tenths of a mile in twenty different sections of the county. When the State builds a road it wants it to go somewhere and to serve the whole public instead of a few people for political purposes.

The Mail is pleased to note that the Observer is getting around to the State plan of highway improvements, and while it professes some vague alarm about the so-called Penrose gang being in charge of road building in the State, it specifically and heartily endorses Commissioner Bigelow and the work he has been chosen to execute.

MOVEMENT IN THE AIR.

Rumors from various quarters are to the effect that many railroad projects are being considered for the development of the upper Monongahela valley. Some of the alleged projected railway extensions associate possible developments of tracts not yet touched in the fourth and fifth pools while others contemplate tapping the rich fields of Greene county. Others still open up connections with the resounces of West Virginia and make railway connecions east and west which if consumated would make the Monongahela valley a most important traffic thoroughfare.

Out of all these rumors it is reasonable to believe that there is some semblance of truth to some of the projected developments. The rich resources are here, and the only question that figures is when the interests affected will consider it an opportune time for commencing the work that is bound to come. The Monongahela valley is destined to figure as a traffic way from the Pittsburg district to the Gulf when the Panama canal is completed, and the rumors now afloat are more than likely a premonition of what is to come later

"The mind of the crook works faster and more comprehensively than that of the shrewdest business man," was the remark of a prominent postal official who visited the valley recently who was looking up some alleged abuses of the mailing facilities of the community. "No sooner does the Postoffice Department run down a fraudulant scheme in one part of the country that is using the mails to defraud people, than another develops somewhere else, which, by the time it is investigated and shown to be fraudulant, has separated a portion of the public from a big lot of its money. If the same amount of time, energy and ability were devoted to the promotion and development of legitimate business enterprises, a big gain would be made in the world's progress. It is really surprising the amount of genius and executive ability that is displayed in originating schemes to get something for nothing. It seems to me sometimes that more able men these days turn their talents to developing crooked schemes than they do to legitimate business enterprises."

"In their anxiety to win the owners and managers of baseball clubs this season are not only cheapening the game but are alienating the public by the introduction of rowdy and blackguard tactics," said an old-time fan today, who keeps tab on the big professional leagues. "There was never so much umpire baiting in recent years as is now indulged in by the players of the National League, and this has spread to the smaller leagues and independent teams until a spectator can scarcely see a game without a disgraceful exhibition of rowdyism not only on the field but among the spectators themselves. This is due to the owners of the clubs in the big league not supporting the staff of umpires. In the National League the owners are so anxious to win that they encourage their players in trying to intimidate and browbeat the umpires, until baseball is getting into disrepute from the spectator's point of view. It will be observed that the American League is playing clean baseball, and that their club as well as individual percentages are considerably ahead of those of the National League."

CURIOUS TRAITS OF A....IALS

Peculiar Habits of Flies, Hens, Mice, Snakes and Goldfish, Some of Them Unexplainable.

A fly on a window pane will crawl to the top, fly back to the bottom and crawl up again. This order is seldom reversed. Why, no one knows, it is on record that a fly crawled up a window pane thirty-two times, returning each time a-wing.

Hens scratch for food with the sun behind them, the reason being that the rays reflect on the minute particles. A blind hen will pick grain and not miss a kernel.

Cats seldom lie with their feet to the fire. Usually they lie on the left side. Dogs lie with their fore paws to the fire

A mouse will ignore a food supply sufficient for a meal and run great risks to nibble at a wholesale supply, says the Milwaukee Sentinel. It will hide at the source of food supply and not depart therefrom until actually disturbed. It isn't true that a mouse runs to a hole at the first alarm.

Find a harmless little snake the length of a lead pencil and provide a box for it in the house, visit it daily, and at the end of three months it will crawl to you for food.

Goldfish usually swim around a globe to the right. They can be taught to take a fly out of the hand in six weeks' time. The presence of other fish in the globe is generally ignored by goldfish. Drop a piece of chip on the surface of the water and it will frighten a fish.

SAVED DAUGHTERS LIFE

This Father Refused to Let His Daughter Die.

Here is a story with amoral that many parents might take to heart:

"My daughter was very pale, nervous, thin and suffered with severe pain in her back, so that we took her out of school. Her flesh became blue and she could not retain her urine. I spent over $100 for medicines but she grew worse. Finally I bought a bottle of Thompson's Barosma and she began to grow better right away. Five bottles of Thompson's Barosma made a complete cure and today she is a perfectly healthy girl. Thompson's Barosma saved her life, for she was failing so fast that death was not far off."—Frank D. Meeder, Pleasantville Pa.

If you are troubled with backache, sideache, weakness with backache, or any liver or kidney trouble, then it's time for Thompson's Barosma.

W. F. Henning's sells Thompson's Barosma in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00, and he guarantees it to cure Bright's disease, high colored urine, bed-wetting and all other kidney and liver diseases. It will make anyone vigorous in a few weeks, because it is a great tonic and maker of rich red blood. All druggists.

An Advertisement is Your Cheapest Salesman

The chances are that if you go into almost any store in a country town, at the present time, and tell the storekeeper that his cheapest salesman is his advertisement in the local newspaper he will laugh at you. He will laugh because he does not know what salesmanship means. It is the mere showing of his goods to any customer that has the good luck to come into his store according to his lights. He does not realize that it is possible for customers to be enticed to his store to actually demand goods that they never thought they wanted before.

It is a comparatively easy matter to sell a woman or man goods when you have them in your store and can lay the wares right in front of them. In such a case much more than nine-tenths of the selling act has already been accomplished by the coming of your customer to the store. Even then a saleman who can get big results in the store is classed as high-grade and his salary no matter how large, is considered a reasonable expenditure and in many cases cheaply spent

To cause a customer to have a desire to come to your store, where no desire existed before, requires salesmanship of a high order. Such salesmanship makes new customers—builds your business and lays in short the foundation of your fortune. No retail business of modern times can make a great success without such salesmanship—without, in other words the proper utilization of space in your local newspaper. Considering the results this kind of salesmanship obtains, it is the best and cheapest you can buy.

This efficient use of space in your local newspaper has been called salesmanship on paper. If you fill the space with forceful matter that will create attention, cause conviction and bring results you have an addition to your sales force that may surely be called the best promoter on your staff. The results that are obtained from this salesmanship depend on the selling ability used. But no matter what results are obtained, the quality os ... necessary is much greater than that required inside the store.

The big mail-order houses reckon that they must pay so much money for every inquiry they get. The amount of this sum is ascertained by dividing all the money spent on advertising and selling literature by the number of letters received in answer to the same. This refers to inquiries only. Not every inquirer becomes a customer. The securing of actual customers costs more. The money that has to be spent to get one new customer by those concerns would astonish the local retailer. It is usually not less than the amount spent on several weeks' advertising by the average local storekeeper The salesmanship on paper that is necessary to do all this is the finest that can be got for money and it is considered cheap at the enormous price paid for it because it is engaged in building up a big mail order business with new material.

The local retailer can apply a lesson from this to himself. If those mail order houses spend so much money to get one new customer, why should a retailer not make an effort in the same direction? Why should he not adopt the same means of attractive salesmanship on paper? If he can bring even one new customer a week to his store with an expenditure that is many times below what a mail order house has to pay for getting the same results, it is worth while paying closer attention to this successful method of selling. If he can influence more than one customer, and it would be poor local newspaper advertising indeed that could not do that, he would be accomplishing far more than the mail order houses with their highly paid selling experts. And, as a business man, he could congratulate himself on a good investment. He could say to himself that he had in his advertisement the cheapest salesman on his force.

It is, of course, not always possible to readily get this strong, convincing celling matter in your newspaper space. You may not be able yourself to write it and you may not have any local person to whom you can turn. But that need not deter you. There are now on the market one or two syndicated advertising services that are designed especially to suit cases like yours. These services are supplied in a series of fifty-two advertisements with accompanying copper-plate engraving one for each week inthe year, at prices ranging from one dollar per week up. Many of the advertisements have been classed by authorities as equal to the best that have made successes for the big city department stores and national advertisers. Reduced facsimiles of several of these advertisements will be seen at the top of this column.

The advertisements shown above have received many testimanials from experts. For instance, Wm. H. Ukers President of the Grocery and Allied Trades Press Association of America (a combination of the entire American Grocery Trade Press) and editor of the Tea and Coffee Trade Journal, New York, writes:

"I consider your advertisement the best I have seen in a long time"

The Retailer's Journal, Chicago, writes:

"We believe the samples of your advertisements sent us are the best we have ever seen."

After expressions like these from men who have spent long lives amongst the kind of advertising that has built fortunes for the shrewd users, the local merchant who neglects the opportunity now offered him to obtain some of these success making announcements is missing the chance of his lifetime

The editor of this paper will be glad to supply further particulars of the syndicate whose specimen ads adorn the top of this column and I advise early application as only one of these services will be supplied to each storekeeper in his own town

Many Little Shellfish of the Mediterranean of Which the French Make Good Use.

Fruits de mer ("sea fruit"), this is the comprehensive name by which the numerous little shellfish of the Mediterranean are known; the term, affectionate if you will, which the French use in speaking of these contributions of the sea which are at their best in Marseilles and all along the Riviera, over the border into sunny Italy

Marseilles is the great fish market of southern France and Leghorn of northern Italy, while Naples of course is the center for southern Italy. Along the quays of all three cities an epicure on his rambles will find much of interest and many a new sensation for his palate.

Bouillabaisse, even before it was made famous in literature by Thackeray, was considered the piece de resistance of southern France and matelotte de poisson a close second. But for my part the most luscious morsels of the fruits of the blue Mediterranean are the little shellfish which are sold from the booths along the quays or in the open air kitchens where amid odors of garlic and oil, a whiff of the salt air from the sea and of great masses of wet seaweed upon which the shellfish are tastefully arranged make the nostrils dilate even as the sight of the seductive wares tickle the palate and force one to stop and investigate.—Epicure.

CHRISTIANS BEAT THE METHODISTS BY A BIG SCORE

Capt. Mathers and His Bunch Wear Batting Clothes-- Errors Numerous

Between hard hitting and Methodist errors the Christians were enabled to gain an easy victory Monday night and the score was 13 to 3. The Christians had on their hitting clothes and it would have taken a whole lot to have stopped them from banging the ball the way they did. Perce Pollock tacked mound duty for the Methodists but after three innings experience there decided he was needed in the outfield and Ray Kent was sent in.

The Christians scored in the first, second, third and fifth innings. In their first they got one on two singles and an error and in the second captured five runs on four hits, and three errors. Three runs was the record for the third sessions on two hits and three misplays. The fifth session meant four more tallies on a single and a triple, a walk, a hit by pitcher, an error, wild pitch and sacrifice fly. That made 13 and the Christians discontinued running the bases.

In the fourth on a double by McKean and singles by Pollock and Gray, a passed ball and a stolen base two runs were scored by the Methodists. Gray singled in the sixth inning, stole second, went third on a passed ball coming home on an out.

BASEBALL BINGLES

Kiefer was touched for eight safeties by the Methodists. That was somewhat more than the Catholics could glean.

* * *

Cardon Jimeson, whom Dale Jolliffee calls the human interrogation mark and who seems to do his best to live up to his reputation, plays better on short than anywhere else.

* * *

Manager George Barnett in middle garden had the audicity to catch two pretty flies. George is "some punkins" as a fielder, all right

* * *

By putting on a little extra steam Speedy McKean stretched what ordinarily would have been a single into a double

* * *

Heffran has his batting eye back again. He is stinging the ball to a very considerable extent now.

* * *

Frank Buchanan landed one down between first and second at Blairsville Saturday, but one scorekeeper forgot to credit the same. Mistakes do occur but on a beaut like—well Blairsville scorers could do no better.

* * *

Capt. Mathers had his men working the hit and run game to a finish Monday night.

* * *

Pollock landed a pretty Texas leaguer over short in the fourth.

* * *

Louie Bege and Gray pulled off a pretty steal in the fourth, the latter coming home on the deal.

* * *

Kent pitched the first time this year and twired rather well at that.

* * *

Members of the Christian team kidded Pollock and Kent for posing. Nobody ever accused them of that before, and it might be possible that the Christians were jealous. So there!

Hurt by War Relics.

"What is the matter, uncle?" he asked. "Is your arm broken?"

"No, sah," grinned the old man. "It's jest gun sore."

"Been hunting?"

"No, sah. Ah been shootin' trees."

"Oh, I see: target practice."

"No sah."

"Then you'll have to elucidate."

MAY WATTS DIES AFTER AN ILLNESS OF SOME MONTHS

The parents, four sisters, and three brothers survive. The sisters are: Mrs. John Henrion, Mrs. James Maund, Mrs. George Eason and Miss Rachel at home. Small Republics.

Klein-Alp is a diminutive republic tucked away between Switzerland and France. Only in summer is the republic inhabited, and then by miners and cowgirls. There is one hotel, closed during the winter. Another little republic is in Tyrol, between Austria and Italy, and in long gone years was under the jurisdiction of first a king and then an emperor. But in the adjustment of frontier lines the state of Val di Ventino was in some way overlooked, and it promptly organized itself into a Lilliputian republic. It has now about 2,000 inhabitants, living in six villages. Neither Val di Ventino or Klein-Alp have any taxes. There are no officials or compulsory military service. The only industry of Val di Ventino, aside from the farming of small fields, is charcoal burning.

Nearly Out of Cheese.

A grocery salesman entering a store found the place in charge of the delivery boy. Upon being asked where the proprietor was, the boy replied: "I am the whole cheese here." The traveling man departed, leaving a note for the proprietor, which the boy promptly opened. "Permit me to suggest," he read, "that you are nearly out of cheese."—Success.

Mean Slap at Scribbler.

Wigg—"Scribbler is always talking about how he wooes the muse." Wagg—"Well, she has pretty good grounds on which to sue him for breach of promise."—Philadelphia Record.

Notice.

I will leave tonight, July 17, for a six weeks' trip to Mt. Clemens, Mich., for treatment. I wish to notify all people who have business with my church that I will look after all transactions immediately upon my return on Sept. 1.
